Regent's Canal's energy-saving tip

SWEDISH DEVELOPER REDSAT ORSMAN has received the green light for an office development on London's Regent's Canal.

Hackney Borough Council last week granted permission for a six-storey, 25,226 sq ft property (above) at 6 Orsman Road in Hoxton, close to the new East London Line.

Architect Buckley Gray Yeoman has designed the building, which will be constructed using advanced energy-saving building techniques that allow the development to contribute excess energy to the National Grid.

Crossland Otter Hunter and Richard Susskind & Co are the joint letting agents.
